CHILD RIGHTS

“ Children are little people who need BIG rights. ” - Dr. Klaus Kenkel, Germany

Rights are about empowering people, about giving power to the vulnerable and marginalized people to fight for justice. Until recently, little thought had been given to rights of children in India and it was only towards the end of the last century that children began to be looked on as persons in their own right, with rights of their own. And now, together as a nation, it is our duty to further provide an impetus to this movement. Let us be loud, let us be clear.
