Portrait of Lal Bahadur Shastri

(October 2, 1904 – January 11, 1966)

“Too often the community views the businessman’s aim as a means of selfish gain rather than a step towards advancement of general welfare. That impression can be removed only if business becomes fully alive to its social responsibilities and helps our society to function in harmony as one organic whole.”

Brief about Shastri Ji

A pragmatic and down-to-earth leader of the people of India, a fine statesman and an able administrator, with the moral and ethical attributes of a ‘Mahatma’ and a person of impeccable integrity, Shastri Ji was a great soul dedicated to the welfare of the common man. He was deeply patriotic and courageous, having dedicated his life to the service of the nation. His commitment to the people of India was exemplary. Lal Bahadur Shastri was born on October 2, 1904 and from a humble background he rose to the highest post of Prime Minister of India because of his grit, determination and honesty. A firm believer in the social responsibilities of business enterprises, he looked at the economic and social realities of Indian life with a clear vision, never allowing his judgment to be influenced by doctrine or ideological preconceptions. In the administrative sphere, he had original ideas, and was an innovator with a resolve to give effect to new ideas. Shastri Ji’s tireless dedication, to the cause of improving the welfare of the Indian people, is an inspiration to all those who look to the future with hope and confidence.

Shastri Ji felt the need for responsive and agile administration during his tenure as Prime Minister of India. The appointment of an Administrative Reforms Commission to streamline Public Administration was one among many steps he took to make administration quick and responsive. Central Vigilance Commission was also created by Shri Lal Bahadur Shastri to deal with corruption among government employees. He simultaneously realised the importance of developing high quality institutions, which could provide highly efficient administrators and managers for future. His vision was later translated into reality when the Lal Bahadur Shastri National Academy of Administration was set up in Mussoorie. Shastri Ji passed away in Tashkent, the capital of Uzbekistan on January 11, 1966 after signing the famous Tashkent Declaration.

Programme Structure

The two year Full-Time Post Graduate Diploma in Management programme consists of four semesters. The course structure has been designed to ensure that the management graduates of LBSITM develop a judicious blend of strategic thinking and tactical implementation, specialized knowledge and general management skills. In the two semesters during the first year, the focus is primarily on basic courses, to build a foundation of conceptual and analytical skills, required for more specialized study in various functional areas, to be pursued in the second year of the programme. The students have to take 16 core courses along with a Personal & Interpersonal Effectiveness Lab and undertake Summer Training during the year. The students may also have the opportunity to take a foreign language as an optional course during the first year.

In the second year, during the third and fourth Semesters, the students have to opt for 11 electives in addition to the three compulsory courses. This enables the students to pursue in –depth learning in the areas of their specialization. The electives cover a minimum of two functional areas, which equip the LBSITM graduates with multiple functional skills.

Besides, each student undertakes a project study under the guidance of a faculty member during the second year, with the aim of gaining an insight into actual corporate realities by studying a business problem or a situation. The students from the beginning of third semester undertake the project study and the final submission is at the end of third semester.

Summer Training

Each student is required to undertake summer training in a company of repute for the duration of 8-10 weeks as a part of course curriculum just after the second semester examination. They are also required to undertake a project assignment in the company. This project training provides an opportunity to the students to have first-hand practical exposure and relate the conceptual and analytical skills, acquired in classroom, to actual managerial practices. The institute, as well as the organizations where these projects have been carried out, evaluates the projects undertaken by the students.

If the evaluation is unsatisfactory, the student is not promoted to the second year of the programme.

End-Term Project

The 'End Term Project' is carried out by the 2nd year students wherein they are required to submit a report containing their research and findings.

Course curriculum

Course curriculum for the Post Graduate Diploma in Management is reviewed and updated every year, particularly for its content, pedagogy, evaluation parameters, and readings. To keep pace with the changing environment, each course undergoes a three-stage updating process. To begin with, the instructor concerned reviews his/her course vis-à-vis the same/similar course/s offered by other benchmarked institutions in the country and abroad and updates the course/s keeping his/her own updated academic and industry insight in mind. In the second stage, instructors discuss the course/s in their respective area meetings and update the same in accordance with the suggestions of the group. In the third and final stage, all the courses are presented for discussion in the Faculty Council. The Council along with invited industry experts, reputed alumni, and representatives from prominent recruiters deliberate on each and every course presented there and suggests changes, if needed. Integration of the total package as well as stakeholder expectation is main concern of the Council.
